“ASIL's Academic Partnership has been tremendous for UCI Law School, including in providing resources for our students and our career services. Students learn of opportunities for pursuing international and transnational internships and careers that they would otherwise miss.”

- GREGORY SHAFFER, Chancellor's Professor of Law; and Director, Center on Globalization, Law and Society, University of California, Irvine School of Law (ASIL President 2022-2024)

“We have an important and integral partnership with ASIL, as co-sponsors of the Grotius Lecture at the ASIL Annual Meeting for over 20 years. Our students see this as a “must go to” event to hear from preeminent experts in the field, network, and learn about resources and support to launch their international law careers.”

- PADIDEH ALA'I, Professor of Law, and Faculty Director, International Legal Studies Program, American University Washington College of Law

“Partnership with ASIL provides our law school community with an invaluable bridge to the world of international law. Our students have benefited from ample career-blazing opportunities afforded by the Partnership program; access to the ASIL job board; and the exposure to people and ideas at the ASIL Annual Meeting.”

- JULIAN ARATO, Professor of Law & Co-Director for the Dennis J. Block Center for the Study of International Business Law, Brooklyn Law School

“ Our students and faculty members find the ASIL Academic Partnership to be a very valuable tool for connecting in the world of international law. It allows us to develop networks, access research and teaching materials, as well as to be linked with international law developments in the United States.

- LAURENCE BOISSON DE CHAZOURNES, Professor and Director of the Master in International Dispute Settlement (MIDS), University of Geneva Law School

“ ASIL's Academic Partnership provides our students with outstanding career resources – especially access to ASIL's job board and career advising. Our students undoubtedly benefit from the tremendous educational and networking opportunities through our Academic Partnership.

- ALLEN S. WEINER, Senior Lecturer in Law at Stanford Law School; Director, Stanford Program on International and Comparative Law; and Co-Director, Stanford Center on International Conflict and Negotiation

“ ASIL's academic partnership is a fabulous way for our faculty, staff, and students to stay connected from our Midwest location. Students enjoy the webinars on international law careers as well as the Annual Meeting. Ability of our career services staff to meet student demands is enhanced by ASIL's training.

- ADRIEN K. WING, Associate Dean of International & Comparative Law, Bessie Dutton Murray Professor of Law at University of Iowa College of Law
