

Call for Papers: International Organizations Workshop

ASIL IOIG - 15 March 2019
Seton Hall School of Law, Newark, NJ

The International Organizations Interest Group (IOIG) of the American Society of International Law (ASIL) welcomes abstract submissions for its biennial work-in-progress workshop, to be held on Friday 15 March 2019 at Seton Hall School of Law in Newark, NJ.

Abstracts must relate to the study of international organizations (broadly defined). We particularly encourage submissions on one of the ASIL Executive Council's signature topics: "Atrocity Prevention: The Role of International Law and Justice"; and "Beyond National Jurisdiction: Human Activities in the Oceans, Polar Regions, Cyberspace and Outer Space."

To submit an abstract, please email the Co-Chairs and Vice-Chair Maria Panezi, Bart Smit Duijzentkunst and Melinda Kuritzky at ioig@asil.org by midnight on Saturday, 1 December 2018.

Authors whose abstracts have been selected will be notified by 31 December 2018. Papers are due no later than 1 March 2019 and will be pre-circulated. Papers should not yet be published.

Each paper will be assigned a commentator, who will introduce the paper followed by a discussion with workshop participants. The workshop will be conducted on the assumption that everyone has read all of the papers in advance. Attendance will be open to all.

The workshop is kindly hosted by Seton Hall Law School in Newark, NJ, about 25 minutes by public transport from New York's Penn Station. It is co-sponsored by the ABILA United Nations Law Committee and the ILA's Study Group on UN Sanctions and International Law, which will hold a business meeting on the same day.

Lunch and refreshments will be served during the workshop, but the IOIG regrets that it cannot cover travel and lodging expenses for participants.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions about the workshop or call for papers.
