

Addressing the trafficking of cultural property through the public/private law nexus

International conference

This conference examines recent developments against the trafficking of cultural property. It brings together academics from all over the world who specialise in both public and private law, along with stakeholders committed to fighting trafficking.

It focuses on the restructuring of these rules and standards, with the goal of improving how public and private laws intersect to enhance the overall regulatory framework.

Canterbury: 6-7 June 2024

Grimond Lecture Theatre 3

In person and online registration.
Scan QR code below.

Funded by the British Academy and the Centre for Heritage, University of Kent.

Find out more:

